

10-13

expressed. Tics in response to an environmental trigger can appear to be voluntary or purposeful but are not. Many people with Tourette's experience additional neurobehavioral problems that include inattention, hyperactivity and impulsivity. People with Tourette's have also reported