

06-03

A 10x10 grid of 100 small clusters of black dots. Each cluster is a unique pattern of dots, varying in complexity and shape. Some clusters are simple, like a single dot or a small group of dots, while others are more complex, resembling letters or abstract shapes. The dots are black and the background is white.