

A 10x10 grid of 100 small, stylized human figures. Each figure is composed of black dots forming a simplified human shape, including a head, torso, and limbs. The figures are arranged in a regular, repeating pattern across the entire grid, with some figures appearing slightly more prominent or in different poses than others, creating a sense of a large crowd or a structured assembly.