

A 10x10 grid of 100 small, stylized human figures. Each figure is composed of a solid black circle for the head and a black-outlined shape for the body. The figures are arranged in a regular grid pattern, with each figure slightly offset from the others, creating a sense of depth and movement. The overall effect is a dense, organized collection of simple human forms.