03-16

pale face leaning against the wall, frozen and stone dead. She tried to warm herself, said some. Children who saw her were asking their parents why no one helped the girl who they knew looked dirt poor and helpless. Passersby who saw her sitting motionless wished they could have helped the girl, but their good