04-06

higher, but the eagle flew highest of any, surprised no one. Could anyone stop the eagle that seemed to be flying straight into the sun? The other birds gave out one by one and when the eagle saw this he thought, "What is the use of flying any higher? This victory is in the bag and I am king!"