08-13

several accounts from those who claimed to have seen aliens, critics identified a variety of problems with them. These problems ranged from the reliability of second-hand accounts, to serious credibility problems with witnesses making demonstrably false or internally inconsistent claims, to