09-07

breaking virus". The Dutch Golden Age growers named their new varieties with exalted titles. Many early forms were prefixed with "admiral", often combined with the growers' names. "General" was another prefix that found its way into the names of around thirty varieties. Later came varieties with