

03-15

upwards in brightness and joy far above the earth, where there was neither cold nor hunger, and the little girl felt safe and peaceful. In the dawn of the morning there lay the poor little one, not frowning, but smiling and with a pale face leaning against the wall, frozen and stone dead. She tried to warm herself, said some. Children who saw her were asking