

05-08

orphans. Even though we were supposed to slowly wait to be called, I ran straight up to one of the barber chairs and climbed up onto the board the barber placed across the arms to make me sit up higher. I looked at the man and said, with a beaming smile on my face, "I want an Elvis haircut. Can you make my