

A 10x10 grid of 100 small, stylized human figures. Each figure is composed of black dots on a white background, forming a simplified silhouette of a person with arms and legs. The figures are arranged in a structured pattern, with some figures having their arms raised or legs spread, creating a rhythmic visual effect. The overall composition is a square grid, with the figures acting as the primary visual elements.