

A 10x10 grid of 100 small, stylized figures. Each figure is composed of black dots arranged in various patterns, representing a population of individuals. The patterns vary significantly, with some figures having a central vertical line of dots, others having a horizontal line, and some having more complex, irregular arrangements. The figures are arranged in a regular grid, with 10 figures per row and 10 figures per column.